Is Santa Cruz County water secure?

Is there enough water to meet the needs of the citizens in the foreseeable future?

In a recent report from The Arizona Department of Water Resources show our ground water is over half gone, and projections show there may be little ground water left near future.

What about the PFAS –the dangerous forever chemicals in our drinking water?

The Environmental Protection Agency reported Rio Rico and Tubac had the highest amounts of these toxic chemicals in the state of Arizona.

What about the impact of raw sewage coming in from Mexico?

Where does our water come from, who owns it and who is responsible for protecting it?

How will mining impact our water supply?

What are the solutions?

Join us for this important Town Hall event – meet some of the top water experts in Arizona who can answer your questions.
